

THE HONG KONG POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTING SEMINAR SERIES

Computing Professionals in Society Seminar No. 3

Date : 14 November 2009 (Saturday)
Time : 2:30 pm – 5:30 pm
Venue : Chan On Tak Lecture Theatre (TU201)
The Hong Kong Polytechnic University

Topic 1: Next Generation Society (2:30 pm – 3:30 pm)

Dr. the Hon Samson Tam, JP
Member, Legislative Council (IT Functional Constituency), HKSAR

What would our next generation society look like? How the net generation society transforms our education, workforce and society? In order to adapt the net generation society, young people should be creative and innovative. We should have knowledge about human development so that we can grasp the forthcoming opportunities. Our future leaders, it's time for us to change and equip ourselves. Are you ready?

Topic 2:-Technology Crime and Computer Forensics (3:30 – 4:30 pm)

Sr Inspector Joe Chan
Technology Crime Division, Hong Kong Police Force

This part of the seminar will be devoted to an introduction of Technology Crime and Computer Forensics, and relevant law of Hong Kong for Technology Crime.

Topic 3:-Information Security Trend and HKCERT (4:30 – 5:30 pm)

Mr Roy Ko
Centre Manager, HK Computer Emergency Response Team

This part of the seminar will present a brief account on HKCERT' activities highlighting the changes in information security situations and the way to handle incidents as well as the future trends of information security including the more proactive and collaborative approach in handling future incidents.

The Speakers

Dr. Tam is a Legislative Councilor and he is the founder of Group Sense (International) Ltd, also a member of Digital 21 Strategy Advisory Committee, the Small and Medium Enterprises Committee and Deputy Chairman of the Hong Kong Productivity Council. In addition, he is Chairman of the TechMatrix Research Centre, a local technology think tank promotes the development of creative industries in Hong Kong.

Mr Chan graduated from HKUST in Electronic Engineering. Since 2006, he has been charged of investigation of complex and complicated technology crime and of the standard of computer forensics and digital evidence for the Hong Kong Police Force.

Mr. Ko is a principal consultant with the IT Industry Development Division of HKPC, and is responsible for providing consultancy services in software quality, process improvement and information security issues. He was project co-ordinator of the HKSAR government funded projects on information security and software process improvement. At present, Mr. Ko is centre manager, CERT Co-ordination Centre.